

J-1 Scholars who are eligible for University of Illinois insurance

As long as you are in J-1 status, you will be required to have the level of insurance required by the U.S. State Department. A J-1 who obtains health insurance coverage through the State Employees Group Insurance Program needs to purchase a separate, private policy for medical evacuation and repatriation of remains, because this is not part of any UIUC insurance plan.

The University of Illinois' contracted insurance partner for UIUC students and scholars traveling abroad is Gallagher Insurance. They also provide coverage to incoming J-1 exchange visitors and their dependents. Gallagher Insurance sells separate policies for medical evacuation and repatriation of remains.

The companies listed below also sell separate policies just for medical evacuation and repatriation of remains. Please purchase a policy for yourself and any J-2 dependents as soon as possible so that you will be in compliance with State Department requirements. You may purchase a policy from one of these companies or any other which provides the required amount, which is $50,000 for medical evacuation and $25,000 for repatriation.
